

RETALIATORY PLAN
BROADER IN SCOPEASQUITH ANNOUNCES JOINT NOTE
FROM ALLIES MIGHT BE EXPECTED

May Class Cotton as Contraband—
Three British Vessels Missing—
Two German Submarines Overdue—Pursuit of Russ Ends—
Both Sides Claim Gains in West.

London, Feb. 22.—(10 p. m.)—The Wasp of modern warfare, the submarine, by means of which Germany has declared she will blockade the British Isles, daily becomes a factor of more and more importance in the great war of Europe with respect to its influence on the policies of the nations engaged, in connection with the contraband question so vital to national states. Almost coincidental with the unofficial reports that Austria proposes to follow the example of her ally by making war on merchant ships in the Adriatic, came the announcement by Premier Asquith in the British house of commons that much discussed retaliatory plan of Great Britain, though still tentative, was much broader in scope than had been previously suggested; in that it was a matter for the consideration of all the allies and that a joint note concerning it might be expected from the allies.

The statement was likewise made in the house of commons that the British government might deem it necessary to alter its decision where by cotton, up to the present, has not been classed as contraband.

Three British Craft Missing.
The day passed without news of any additional merchant ship belligerent or neutral having fallen a victim of a German submarine but three small British craft are missing and fears are expressed as to their fate.

Amsterdam reports that two German submarines are overdue at their base, Cuxhaven, but whether they have been sunk is not known. Traffic in the North Sea remains somewhat disorganized and Dutch and Scandinavian sailors are showing a reluctance to go to sea owing to the menace of both submarines and mines. Reports from Copenhagen that traffic between Sweden and England has been temporarily discontinued are not officially confirmed.

The British newspapers print today two conflicting versions of the recent battles by which the German drove the Russians back over the east Prussian frontier, but naturally they are inclined to accept the Russian version that the Russians fell back in orderly fashion, fighting an effective rear guard action.

As against this is the German claim of 100,000 prisoners and a staggering array of captured munitions. It is noted however, that Berlin says: "The pursuit has come to an end" and British observers say this means that another costly German rush has fallen short. It will take the battles now developing on Russian soil to demonstrate whether this view is correct. In the Carpathians, the armies of Russia and Austria remain swaying, as it were on the gateway of Hungary.

In the western war zone it is give and take, with the loss or gain of a few yards of trenches. The official reports make the usual claims, the allies emphasizing their gains and the Germans theirs.

PLACE HART WILLIAMS COAL
COMPANY IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

DUQUOIN, Ill., Feb. 22.—The Hart Williams Coal company, which suspended operation at Benton a few days ago, was placed in the hands of a receiver, L. H. Brand of Benton, a stockholder, was put in charge of the property by order of the circuit court. The assets of the company are listed at $100,000 and the liabilities at $200,000.

The receivership resulted from the inability of the owners to clear the payroll for the first two weeks of February, totalling $22,500. The force of approximately 600 miners have voted not to return to work until they are paid in full. It is believed the receiver will sell the mine.

London, Feb. 23.—(2:35 a. m.)—Viscount Bryce, lecturing at London university on race sentiment as a factor in history, traced the origin of the present war to feelings of racial consciousness and national vanity developed during the last 150 years by the American and French revolutions.

ADMITS VIRTUAL POSTPONEMENT
OF THE JOHNSON-WILLARD FIGHT

Promoter Believes Negro Can Arrive
Safely at Juarez Within a Short
Time After the Original Date Set.

El Paso, Feb. 22.—Virtual postponement of the Jack Johnson-Jess Willard boxing bout was admitted today by Jack Curley, the promoter. It was believed that Johnson could not arrive at Juarez, Mexico, on the border here, from Havana by way of any Mexican sea port by March 6th.

Curley, however, declared that he believed that the American negro would arrive safely at Juarez within a short time after the original date; but he did not make known how he would cross through the east coast ports held by Carranza to the Villa lines.

Johnson cabled from Cuba to Curley that if it were considered impossible to hold the fight in Juarez that the bout could be held at Havana and that Willard could cross to the Cuban capital within a few days. Curley however, declared that he would not consent to this, since all matters had been arranged at Juarez. It was pointed out, too, that postponement would make no difference to the spectators, few of whom have started for the border.

Curley declared again today that no other boxer would be substituted for Johnson. He said that Johnson would need at least a week's training at Juarez before the fight. This week, with the time required, for Johnson's trip through Mexico even should he encounter no great difficulty, would make it impossible for him to fight on March 6th. Willard is continuing his daily training at his camp on this side of the boundary.

Refuse Hotel Accommodations.
Havana, Feb. 22.—The unexpected appearance in Havana early today of Jack Johnson, the negro heavy-weight pugilist who is on his way to Mexico to fight Jess Willard in defense of the world's heavy-weight pugilistic championship, was followed this afternoon by his equally unexpected disappearance from public view.

When Johnson and his party arrived from Cienfuegos, which port was reached last night on board a schooner from Barbadores, they drove to a prominent hotel and registered, but a few minutes later were requested to vacate their apartment. After this, it is said the pugilist endeavored to secure lodgings at all the principal hotels, but was unsuccessful. Finally, however, according to the statement of friends, the party found refuge in a private house, the location of which was not made known.

THIRTEEN WHITES, ALLEGED NIGHT RIDERS, ARE SENT TO JAIL

HICKMAN, Ky., Feb. 22.—Thirteen white men, charged with being members of a night riding band which has terrorized negroes in this vicinity were sent to jail here late today after completion of their preliminary hearings. All were held under $500 bond, which none could supply.

Large owners residing in this vicinity are pleased with the court's action, as the activities of the night riders threaten to deprive the plantations of all negro labor. Between Hickman and Tiptonville, many negroes have been driven from the farms after notices had been posted warning them to leave the country and a number of cabins were riddled with bullets.

The uninjured robbers escaped. No money was obtained.

Debate was resumed on the fortifications appropriation bill.

A judiciary sub-committee resumed taking testimony on the charges against Federal Judge Dayton of West Virginia.

The ways and means committee put action on the repeal of the tax on mixed flour over until Wednesday.

Adjourned at 5:40 p. m., to 11 a. m., Tuesday.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Appropriations for national defense occupied the attention of both houses of congress today in the general rush to clear up the supply bills for the government before the adjournment. The senate discussed, until late tonight, the army appropriation bill, carrying approximately $103,000,000, while the house continued debate on the fortifications bill. While progress was being made on both these measures, the senate committee practically completed consideration of the naval appropriations measure and the senate passed for four minutes to pass without debate the pension bill carrying $164,000,000.

Proposes Increases.
Increases for submarines and aviation over provisions of the house bill are proposed by the senate naval committee, its amendments including $1,000,000 for aviation instead of $300,000 as authorized in the house bill, provision for six seagoing submarines instead of one and sixteen instead of eleven of the smaller type submarines.

Senator Smoot sought unsuccessfully to provide for fifty seagoing and twenty-five of the smaller coast defense submarines.

Notwithstanding the progress being made on the appropriations in the senate there were indications today that not all the bills could be passed, even though no attempt were made to renew the ship purchase bill fight. Several Democratic senators said they feared it might be necessary to adopt some emergency resolutions in the closing hours of the session. So far as the shipping bill is concerned nothing has yet been done by the conferees.

Considerable discussion preface consideration of the army bill. In urging prompt action, Senator Chamberlain explained the absence of provisions for re-organization of the army with the statement that the shortness of the session would not permit proper consideration.

He predicted that the re-organization and reserve army bills pending would be pushed at the next session of congress.

Many speeches were made in the house on the fortifications bill. Representative Fordney of Michigan, Republican, predicted that next year the administration would have to enact a so-called war tax revenue measure; issue bonds as in 1895, increase tariff rates or materially reduce government expenditures.

War News Summarized

Both Germany and Russia agree that there has been a severe defeat of the Russians in east Prussia, but they differ with reference to the actual importance of the defeat. Whatever has happened to the Russians' Tenth army, it has at least been driven back many miles and one army corps, numbering 40,000 has been badly cut up.

Since the end of January the Teutonic allies, according to official reports from Berlin and Vienna, have captured 140,800 men, including 71 officers. Among these are seven generals. These prisoners include those made in the last German drive of the Russians through east Prussia and in the fighting in the Carpathians. In addition 193 guns are said to have been taken. In the western war zone the Zeppelin dirigibles have come into the action. One of them has 'bombed' Calais, dropping ten bombs, which killed five persons.

A German dirigible, whether the Zeppelin which 'bombed' Calais or another, has dropped bombs on the railroad running from Dunkirk to Stomer, according to a news agency despatch.

The official statement issued by the French war office records the bombardment of Rheims by the Germans and the loss of a considerable number of lives. At the same time it reports advances for the allies in the neighborhood of Soain, between the Argonne and the Meuse and in Alsace.

The British prime minister has informed the house of commons that the allied governments are still considering methods of reprisals against Germany for its naval policy with regard to merchant ships and that he hoped to be able to announce the scope of the measure at an early date.

Only fifteen men from the American Steamer Evelyn which was sunk off Borkum Island by a mine have been definitely accounted for. These are the captain and fourteen seamen, one of whom died from exposure. They are in Bremerhaven, their boat having been picked up by a Dutch pilot ship. Another boat, believed to contain thirteen members of the crew of the Evelyn, has not been heard from.

Much anxiety is said to exist at Cuxhaven over the absence of two large submarines, which are two days overdue at their base.

The Scandinavian governments' representatives are holding a conference on Germany's sea war zone proclamation. The Prussian diet has appropriated $25,000,000 to be used in alleviating the sufferings of persons affected by the war.

WILL SLAUGHTER KENTUCKY
CATTLE TO COMBAT DISEASE

Hoof and Mouth Malady Perils
$10,000,000 Live Stock Industry of State.

Louisville, Ky., February 22.—Fresh centers of foot and mouth disease infection discovered in Jefferson, Oldham and Bullitt counties have spurred the authorities to renewed efforts to stamp out the plague and save the livestock industry in Kentucky, the value of which J. W. Newman, state commissioner of agriculture, places at $40,000,000.

In line with that idea, approximately 1000 cattle have been ordered slaughtered. Oldham has been added to the quarantined counties and fifteen government inspectors, headed by Dr. U. G. Houck of Chicago, have been ordered to Louisville. The inspectors will canvass the territory within a wide radius of this city in an endeavor to locate all sources of possible infection.

In addition, Commissioner Newman today is sending a circular letter to each of the 120 county judges in Kentucky appealing to them to call mass meetings, organize vigilance committees and combat the disease.

Local live stock men also have mailed letters to 1000 shippers seeking their co-operation.

Meanwhile a dairy herd of eighty-six and a score of hogs in Jefferson County were destroyed today and preparations were made to slaughter 984 cattle being fed at a local distillery. The cattle at the distillery are valued at $60,000. Commissioner Newman in a statement today indicates that the situation is becoming increasingly serious.

DISCUSS DESTRUCTION OF AMERICAN STEAMER

WILSON CONFERS WITH BRYAN REGARDING LOSS OF THE EVELYN

Decide Upon No Course of Action Beyond Diplomatic Inquiry—May Have No Ground for Protest if Nationality of Mine is Not Determined.

BULLETIN.
The Hague, Feb. 22.—Via London, Feb. 23.—(3:05 a. m.)—Up to midnight the thirteen missing men from the American Steamer Evelyn's crew had not been reported from any point in Holland.

Washington, Feb. 22.—President Wilson conferred with Secretary Bryan tonight concerning the destruction of the American Steamer Evelyn off the coast of Germany last Friday, but in the absence of definite information as to the cause of the wreck, no course of action beyond diplomatic inquiries was decided upon.

Having learned unofficially that a part of the Evelyn's crew, when cast adrift from the sinking vessel, headed for the coast of Holland, Secretary Bryan cabled to American Minister Henry Van Dyke at The Hague the same message he previously had sent to Ambassadors Page and Gerard at London and Berlin, asking that every care be extended to the crew and an investigation of the facts of the occurrence be made through all available agencies.

Naval Attaché to Investigate.
Earlier in the day Secretary Daniels instructed the naval attaché of the American embassy at Berlin, to make an investigation of the disaster and report such technical information as was possible for him to gather.

It was conceded in official quarters that if the nationality of the mine were not determined and if no proof were obtained to show whether official notifications to neutral vessels concerning the courses they should steer was being followed by the Evelyn there would be virtually no ground for diplomatic protest. A civil suit by the United States is certain to follow upon such evidence as can be gathered through the official inquiries now being made. Some officials thought that a claim for damages might even be laid against both Germany and Great Britain if the mines were shown far beyond belligerent zones of operations without giving due notice to neutral craft. Some anxiety prevailed among officials over the fate of that portion of the crew of the Evelyn supposed to have rowed for the coast of Holland after the vessel struck.

Murder Charges, Turns Down Offers of Vaudeville Engagements.

Pfanschmidt was first tried in Quincy for the murder of his sister and found guilty and the death penalty imposed by the jury, but the case was reversed by the supreme court. He was next tried at Macomb for the murder of his mother and acquitted.

It was learned today that offers of vaudeville engagements have been made the youth, but through advice of his attorneys he has turned them down and practically decided to go west and engage in business.

He will return to Quincy tomorrow accompanied by uncles and aunts who have contended his innocence from the start.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Charles F. Cline, United States district attorney, was ordered today by Attorney General Gregory to begin an investigation of complaints by inspectors of the bureau of animal industry, that Illinois farmers had resisted the enforcement of quarantine regulations established as a protection against foot and mouth disease.

A number of farmers, as well as inspectors attached to the bureau, have been summoned to appear before the grand jury now in session.

Complaints have been signed by deputies who were replaced by angry farmers in some places with guns and pitchforks.

The stock owners in danger of prosecution are scattered through DuPage, McHenry, Lake, DeKalb, Whiteside, Ogle and Boone counties. The statute on which prosecution is possible provides a maximum fine of $1,000 or three years in the penitentiary or both.

It was said that fighting had been resumed within half a mile of the town and that the "wickiups," or huts, of Tse-Ne-Gat and his father "Old Polk" have been burned by the posse. Manos Jim, an Ute chief, tried to persuade the Piutes to surrender "to save the squaws and children" but was met with refusal.

House Rules Committee Adopts Clause to Bar Everyone Except
Members, Elective State Officers,
Governor's Secretary and Newspapermen from Floor—Senate Bill Ready.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—Lobbying will be dealt a severe blow if plans now making by members of the forty-ninth general assembly materialize. The house committee on rules already has adopted a clause that will bar from the floor of the house every one except members of the present legislature, elective state officers, the governor's private secretary and newspapermen.

In the senate, both a bill and resolution will be presented which, if approved, will make the lot of the professional lobbyist anything but a happy one.

Indicate Passage of Reform.
It will be put up to the house next week to adopt or reject the rules committee's proposal to keep the floor clear of outside interference. Sentiment expressed by members advised of the proposed reform before their departure from Springfield indicates that it will be adopted without a dissenting vote.

Speaker Shanahan is responsible for the movement to free house members of this encumbrance. The speaker has set out to establish a new record for expeditious lawmaking and this is the first timetaker to be tackled. He has fixed May 5th, as the approximate date for sine die adjournment and he believes that if the members are permitted to attend to their work without hindrance they will be able to complete the business of the session by that time.

Has Senate Bill Ready.
Senator Samuel W. Latham of Eldorado will grapple with the lobby goblin on the senate side. He has ready for introduction a bill requiring that every person retained or employed to promote or to oppose any bill, resolution or other matter pending before the general assembly shall be required to file with the secretary of state an affidavit stating by whom he is employed, for what purpose, the amount of compensation received by him and the amount of expenses allowed him.

The senator's bill also provides that the secretary of state shall keep a docket of legislative appearances in which all such information shall be open to the assemblymen and the public and no person shall be permitted to appear before any committee of either the senate or house until the requirements of this act shall have been complied with.

Severe Blizzards Raging
THROUGHOUT SOUTH DAKOTA
SIOUX CITY, Iowa., Feb. 22.—Severe blizzards throughout the James River valley in South Dakota extending southward into Nebraska as far as the Platte, is tying up traffic on all lines of railroad and threatening to cause as serious trouble to telephone and telegraph communication as was caused by the storm of a week ago.

The Milwaukee Lines have abandoned all trains running on its Mitchell and Yankton divisions and on the Platte, S. D., branches.

Despatches received here tonight say a heavy snow is falling with a thirty mile gale piling it into drifts.

At the Northwestern railway offices it was said an attempt would be made to maintain schedules on all their branch lines in South Dakota.

NO HALF-WAY CITIZENS.

A Chicago judge who recently addressed a company of twenty-five foreigners who were taking out naturalization papers, touched upon a popular feeling when he told the immigrants that no one was wanted in America now with divided allegiance. He said to the prospective citizens that they must enter into citizenship with hearts wholly devoted to the interests of their adopted country and that America wanted no half-way citizens now. This is the general feeling, too, throughout the country, and it is worthy of note that this general spirit has marked the utterances during recent weeks and months of foreign born citizens now prominent in the life of this country. While a number of these men in public life have made statements which showed a feeling favorable to the country of their birth, there has been evident an underlying feeling of the strongest kind of patriotism. They have shown that they were ready at any time to place the interests of the country of their adoption above those of their birth if the occasion should arise. Coming months are likely to bring a great horde of foreigners to this country and it is certainly to be hoped that they will come with the thought of making this country first in their affections and loyalty.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS

In Springfield and Chicago today there will be a vast amount of interest in the primary election, for the preliminary campaigns have been waged with even more than the usual amount of feeling. In Springfield the paramount issue seems to be the question of combining the water and light plants there, a proposition which the Springfield utility company has steadfastly opposed. In Chicago it is a question mainly of leadership and political cliques. Carter H. Harrison has in the past two years lost the friendship of Roger Sullivan and some other influential Democrats, and he is paying the penalty by their opposition at this time. Judging from Chicago papers, there is little doubt that he will be nominated to day, but a curious combination of political forces may possibly defeat him later on. In Effingham, Ill., the situation is different from that of any other Illinois city thus far recorded, as a woman recently announced her candidacy for the mayoralty. She will stand an excellent chance of election if she can win the undivided support of the women voters of that town. But if women voters get to a point where they can undividedly support one from their own ranks for office, they will bring to naught all the political prophecies that have been made about them.

SENATOR WEEKS POINTS TO POLICY ERRORS

Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, has not been a member of the U. S. senate for a very long period, but has already firmly established himself as one of the Republican leaders. A well known political writer recently interviewed Senator Weeks upon the possibilities of the national campaign in 1916, when the Massachusetts senator declared the nation's foreign policy is a blot, and the tariff a failure. Be it understood that Senator Weeks did not wish to appear as attacking the administration in any unpatriotic way, but simply meant to point out certain errors which he considers are at the basis of the trouble. In discussing business conditions Senator Weeks said that threats made by the government can be certainly blamed for financial uncertainty.

Talking along this line he said:

"People frequently ask, What is the trouble with business? That is too comprehensive a question to answer in an interview; but one of the main troubles with business is the uncertainty which surrounds it. Nothing is so harmful to industry and enterprise as uncertainty, and it affects capital and labor alike."

"When we read the President's words about the desire to be fair to business they sound satisfactory; but when we turn to the next column of the newspaper in which they are printed and read that one of his Cabinet officers is saying to an audience in a Southern state that unless business is conducted fairly—whatever that may mean—the government will crush it, we have in a sentence the principal difficulty with which business is contending."

"No sane man is going to put his capital into an industry which the government is going to crush, that action to be based on the whim or judgment of some department or bureaucratic officer."

"I believe that the trades commission bill, which was passed last year after a long discussion and much pressure, but which has not yet been put into operation for some reason, will accentuate this condition. It will not be beneficial to the conduct of business, but will be sufficiently harmful so that if it does nothing worse it will increase the uncertainty to which I have referred."

"The country is committed to the policy of preventing the development of monopolies and that where natural monopolies exist, as in the case of the transportation lines, they shall be supervised and regulated; but when this policy is extended to all classes of business it will develop stagnation rather than be beneficial and is, I believe, unwise from every standpoint."

"The government is now in serious financial distress, due very largely to its extravagance, and, in a general way, to appropriating large sums of money for specific purposes, which appropriations should never have been made."

"We cannot, in my opinion, restrain unreasonable expenditures without having definite system of appropriation, and the budget system is the one which to my mind is going to aid in solving the question and preventing the imposition of forms of taxation which should be reserved to a time of national distress instead."

The senator's views on the tariff situation are also worthy of consideration. He said:

"The Underwood-Simmons tariff bill has been proved a failure. It is not necessary in order to make this assertion to depend on the results of its workings since the first of last August, but to study the figures before that date."

"It did not produce sufficient revenue; it did not increase exportation; it did not sufficiently protect our industries; and, in a word, every claim made for it by its sponsors when it passed congress in the summer of 1913 has failed."

"Revenues obtained from a protective tariff are the least burdensome of any imposed by our government. They, with such revenues as are received from taxes on liquor and tobacco, should be depended upon for substantially all of the ordinary expenses of the government, and the imposition of other direct taxes should not be made except in times of unusual emergency."

"In this brief reply I cannot go into a detailed discussion of the failure of the Underwood-Simmons bill, but the most cursory examination of its working will substantiate the general statement which I have made."

Such particular notice has been given to Senator Weeks' utterances at Washington that in some quarters he is already being vigorously championed as a presidential possibility in 1916.

R. R. RATES IN MISSOURI.

The railroads are making a determined fight for increased passenger rates in Missouri just as they are doing in Illinois. Indications are however that in the neighboring state nothing will be done about an advance unless this is approved by the public service commission after an investigation.

The legislature will not, in the opinion of some lawmakers, permit the railroads to advance their rates from 2 to 2 1/2 at once, but the carriers must wait until the Public Service Commission concludes its investigation and determines whether they are entitled to charge more than 2 cents.

The railroads have not helped their cause in the slightest, members say, by the hundreds of petitions with which the legislature has been flooded asking for the rate increase.

Practically every farmer member of the legislature is against the rate increase. Some of the lawyers are dead set against it.

Today the commission will hold a hearing in St. Louis, at which shippers and others will be given a chance to present testimony upon the rate increase application.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

San Francisco—Miss Blanche Payson is the queen of the Exposition police. Only 21 years old, but weighing 235 pounds, and standing 6 feet 4, she has been sworn in as a special officer to guard the women and children, and to watch the "mashers" at the fair.

London—There will soon be placed in Regent street a statue of Florence Nightingale. The figure represents "The Lady with the Lamp," as she might have been seen at night passing through the wards of the hospital at Scutari in the time of the Crimean war.

Topeka, Kas.—Miss Effie Loader, assistant sergeant at arms in the Kansas state senate, is the first woman to hold such office in this country.

The traveling libraries of Kansas, begun a few years ago by club-women, now consist of some 46,000 volumes that travel about in 6600 trunks.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Through the efforts of women toward cleanliness and right prices, the city has erected and runs its own abattoir, insuring sanitary conditions in the slaughtering of cattle.

SUPT. POTTS RECOMMENDS STATE FIRE INSURANCE

Report Just Made to Governor.
Asks Sweeping Investigation—
Calls Practices Oppressive.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 22.—Radical changes in the state's system of treating insurance are recommended in a report submitted to Governor Dunne by Rufus N. Potts, state superintendent of insurance. Forty important recommendations for legislation affecting insurance companies are made by Supt. Potts. Probably the most important of the recommendations is an urgent appeal for a state system of fire insurance.

Supt. Potts recommends the creation of a state commission, with vast, sweeping powers to investigate the affairs of all companies doing business in the state, preparatory to the state's embarking in the business and proposes that in the meantime the state shall assume supervisory power over fire insurance rates.

Other recommendations prohibit agreements or combinations among companies for establishment of uniform rates, urge a standard form of policy, an insurance limit of 85 per cent of the value of insured property and the abolishment of underwriters' agencies.

The enactment of twelve separate laws, as early as possible during the present session of the legislature, is recommended to correct the evils brought to light by recent investigations.

Calls Practices Oppressive.
In part the recommendations to the government are:

"As a result of my recent investigation of fire insurance conditions and rates in Illinois, I am convinced that the only way to bring effective and permanent relief to the public from oppressive practices existing in the fire insurance rates, and provide an equitable distribution of the annual fire loss, is a system of state fire insurance."

"I therefore recommend that a joint legislative committee be appointed as early as can conveniently be done during the present session, which committee shall be authorized and empowered to investigate and examine into the business of fire insurance, and the business and affairs of all fire insurance companies and agencies and organizations thereof, doing business in Illinois, and anything affecting or influencing the business of such companies or organizations."

The insurance superintendent suggests that the scope of the investigation would be greatly extended and additional evidence procured through legislative investigating committee, which could secure valuable evidence unobtainable by him.

The report continues as follows: "Public interest, however, demands immediate relief against present oppressive insurance practices and extortionate premium rates, and this should not, under any circumstances, be deferred during the considerable period of time which must necessarily elapse until the adoption of a system of state fire insurance."

A year ago yesterday there was a snow which kept all trains from entering the town and made any amount of trouble and expense. Now the fear is that the warm weather will start the buds. Already soft maple buds are swelling and grapevines show something of the same tendency. All are hoping that the experience of five years ago will not be repeated. Then we had May in March and March in May to the utter detriment of fruit and all tender vegetable growths.

HOG FEEDERS

We find after several tests, that 1-2 alfalfa chopped up and mixed with 2-3 shelled corn while corn is hot, after taking it out of our Grain Softener, and letting stand 2 or 3 hours in separate tank with cover over it, makes a good hog feed. We add 1-2 gallon of soda to each 15 bushels corn we cook and this helps to keep hogs healthy.

Cob meal cooked and mixed with alfalfa or clover the same way makes a good feed for milk cows. Silage will also make a good mixture, but chopped shock corn answers nicely, if it is very hot when mixed, with plenty of water in feed.

The Amish people mix their feed at 4 o'clock each morning to feed at sun-up, they put the cookers in their barns on cement floors, and make a flue of double tile, 12 in. and 8 in. with cement between them, to pass through loft. This makes a good room in the barn to mend harness, etc.

Do not feed shelled corn alone to anything. It is too rich when cooked in my cookers, too much digestible protein and oil in it. To anyone who feeds cattle we will ship one on 30 days trial, so it will not cost you a cent to test it and all cattle feeders will find it saves them 1-2 their feed, and hold the gain on hogs commonly obtained with the syrup and oil drawn off the corn made into a slop.

CHAS. WOOD, R. F. D. No. 6

P. S.—This mixture for cattle makes the best horse feed I ever saw fed. The Dutch feed it to all their horses. Try letting it steep in boiling hot water on back of your cook stove for one hour but do not let it get hot enough so you can smell it cooking, and it will then lack almost 25 per cent of being the same as my feed.

ON THE HEIGHTS

Adapted from the novel by Berthold Auerbach.

A strikingly dramatic story, magnificently interpreted by Edward Cecil, Gretchen Hartman, Kate Bruce, A. C. Marston and other Biograph favorites, ensures the immediate and lasting success. The story is replete with dramatic situations, and seldom, if ever, has a picture of court life been presented with such superb settings. The acting of the Biograph players—an excellent cast—is flawless. Altogether, "On the Heights" establishes a new and enviable record among the long line of notable Two Reel Biographs. COMING

THE CHRISTIAN—The Hit of the Season

THURSDAY and FRIDAY

The greatest individual hit of the season, was undoubtedly that made by Earle Williams in that masterpiece of Hall Caine's entitled "The Christian."

From the day it gave its initial screen performance at the old Manhattan Opera House, in New York, it was destined to be a favorite with the public. It had a great run at this house, and has returned to New York repeatedly during the season, and each time welcomed more heartily than before. Those who have seen Williams in the role of John Storm say that it is the finest piece of individual acting seen on the screen since films made their bow to the public.

HELD A GREAT REVIVAL IN JACKSONVILLE

Rev. W. A. Smith of Bloomington, endowment secretary of the Illinois Wesleyan university was in the city Monday enroute to Carrollton. Rev. Mr. Smith will be remembered as a former pastor of Centenary church during the period 1893-95.

It was during the winter of '94-'95 that he inaugurated and successfully conducted the great revival services in the Centenary church, which proved so rich a blessing to other denominations as well as the one in which the services were conducted.

The conversions that resulted from this series of services was more than 400. Of this number 240 became members of Centenary church, the others attaching themselves to other churches. The interest in the meetings was so great that the attendance upon the attractions at the opera house dwindled to such small numbers, sometimes there not being more than a few dozen in audience and for a time the dates of expected attractions were cancelled.

Rev. Mr. Smith was assisted to a great degree by Aaron Anthony, a commercial traveler, who was at that time a resident of Springfield, and who was a member of the society of the Gideons, which is composed of Christian traveling men whose efforts for the cause of Christianity are well known over the land.

Canada is Calling You to her Rich Wheat Lands

She extends to Americans a hearty invitation to settle on her FREE Homestead lands of 160 acres each or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

This year wheat is higher but Canadian land just as cheap, so the opportunity is more attractive than ever. Canada wants you to help to feed the world by tilling some of her soil—land similar to that which during many years has averaged 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Think what you can make with wheat around $1 a bushel and land so easy to get. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain growing.

The Government this year is asking farmers to not increase acreage into grain. Military service is not compulsory in Canada but there is a great demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service. The climate is healthful and agreeable, railroads facilities excellent, good schools and churches convenient. WASHINGTON BANQUET AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

SPEAKERS PAID TRIBUTE TO
CHARACTER AND PATRIOTISM OF FIRST AMERICAN.

Judge Cooke Points to Present Day
Tendency to Change Established
Order—Stability is Most Essential
Principle in Government—Constitution
Was Based on Study of Many Governments.

The annual Washington Birthday banquet was held in the Illinois college gymnasium Monday night and proved an occasion of large interest. The weather was unfavorable but that fact did not prevent a goodly company of students and their friends from attendance. Draperies of American flags gave the gymnasium an appearance at once attractive and patriotic and the program, aside from the musical numbers might have been termed a Washington symposium.

Dr. David Reid was presented by Viggo Jensen and met the difficult duties of a toastmaster very ably and the principal address was by Judge George A. Cooke, of the Supreme Court of Illinois. Other addresses were made by Rev. M. L. Pontius, Miss Velma Duggers, John C. Irwin, and Ernest Alford. The musical numbers were of artistic excellence and were supplied by Mr. Dean Cochran and Miss Rebecca Scheibel, with Mr. W. E. Kritch as accompanist. After Judge Cooke's address the entire company at the suggestion of President Rammekamp joined in singing "America."

Washington's Spirit Needed.
The banquet was well served at 7 o'clock. Vickery & Merrigan catering and after the final course, Dr. Reid introduced as the first speaker, Rev. M. L. Pontius, pastor of Central Christian church. Mr. Pontius briefly sketched the life of Washington and reviewed the attacks which were made upon him after the first years of his successful career. He said that Washington went into the war almost unknown and came out marked as one of the world's greatest generals. With an army lacking in food and finances, practically with no navy he was able to lead the way to victory because the fight was waged in the name of humanity.

Washington's life was unselfish and he was surrounded with a simplicity which is somewhat needed today. The speaker said that he was not a pessimist but that he had come to believe that America is developing along unfortunate lines. In national life there comes first a period of industry, then wealth and sometimes corruption. Mr. Pontius said the very fact that one American had in a few years time gathered together a fortune of $900,000,000 was proof that conditions are not just as they should be in this country and he believed that spirit which ruled Washington should and will be revived and right the wrongs of our social and industrial life.

Various Phases of Character.
John C. Irwin, in discussing "Washington Today," said that Washington still lives to a marvelous degree in the hearts of the people. He then told of a visit to Mount Vernon and of the spirit which touches every visitor to the old home of Washington. He said that the first president had been called the greatest of good men and the best of great men and then suggested that one of the great needs of today is a return of the unselfish spirit which actuated the life of Washington.

Miss Velma Duggers' theme was "Washington the American," and she told of the successes of Washington's early public career and of the criticisms and jealousies which came afterward. She said that to be an American like Washington consisted largely in having a great and abiding faith in the destiny of this country.

Ernest Alford discussed "Washington, the Man," pointing out some of the virtues and graces which marked the first American, but suggesting too, that the passage of years had cast something of a glamour about his life and that in many characteristics he was not unlike the average good citizens of today.

Starting Ship of State.
Judge Cooke is a member of the board of trustees and a warm friend of William and Yashti college at Alledo and prefaced his remarks with the statement that he is a firm believer in the small college. Speaking upon the theme, "Will the Government of Washington Endure?" Judge Cooke compared the conditions which surrounded the early Americans and the people of today. Pointing out how many more things there are to distract attention now than was true when the government's founders met to outline the constitution. They met with a sober purpose and considered the great questions involved with a deliberateness which would hardly seem possible today. They studied the constitution of all governments which had lived and of many of those which had perished from the earth and were determined, if possible, not to commit any of the errors which had resulted in the destruction of governments. So, by this method, they tried to keep the ship of state off the rocks and we of today know how well they succeeded.

Civilization's Thin Veneer.
"We of today have, in recent years, talked much of our progress and our advanced civilization and it was not more than a year ago that we talked about universal peace and that there never would be a war again. Yet within a few weeks after we find practically all of the great countries involved in what will probably be the most awful war in all history. This leads to the statement that you can scratch through the veneer of civilization and find the same old spirit underlying, which has characterized men from the very beginning. In the thought expressed by the poet Knox, we are of the same faith as our fathers, the same sun shines upon us and we run about the same course as those who have gone before. As we think of that first constitutional convention we must be glad indeed that men like Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, Jay, Franklin and others their equals in mind and patriotism had so large an influence in shaping the provisions of the constitution.

Primary vs. Short Ballot.
"We, as Americans, are prone to think that we have outgrown our surroundings. We like pioneering and sometimes jump at ideas and think we must change whole systems when possibly it would have been better simply to correct our errors. The man who has an orchard in which some of the trees are not bearing fruit as lucious as the owner wishes, instead of taking the comparatively simple measures which might result in the destruction of the insect which is damaging his orchard, takes the advice of some new found friend and has all the trees chopped down. We do this very thing quite frequently in America in the matter of legislation. A few years ago certain powerful influences in Illinois brought about the passage of a direct primary law. You all know the working of this law and now these same influences are at work advocating the short ballot. Now these two pieces of legislation, or proposed legislation, are exactly opposed to each other, and it cannot be possible that changes have occurred in ten years which would justify such radical departure from the old system. The short ballot would not lessen the number of officers to serve in the government, but would have only a few of them elected, they to appoint the rest and so we would move away from representative government.

Stability Government Essential.
"True it is that changes have come about in our civilization since our constitution was founded, but the one essential thing in government is stability and we should not attempt a change in our constitution unless we set about it in the same careful, deliberate and painstaking way which characterized the action of our colonial ancestors. The oldest institution in the world is Free Masonry and I believe the reason that it has lived is because it is practically impossible to change its rituals or teachings, even in the smallest and seemingly most insignificant way. Again I say, we owe it to the founders of our country to consent to any change in our great inheritance until we have considered our action with careful and continued scrutiny."

He was the youngest of nine children, all of whom preceded him in death. "Mr. Hamilton was married January 8, 1852, to Sarah Ann Martin and they were the parents of two children, William Oscar who passed away in 1856, and Mrs. Laura E. Switzer of Winchester. Mrs. Hamilton died September 9, 1909 and since that time Mr. Hamilton had been tenderly cared for by his daughter and her two sons, Frank and Alva. JUDGE DAYTON MAKES EMPHATIC DENIAL OF IMPEACHMENT CHARGES

Spends Afternoon and Evening on Stand—Prefaces Statement With An Expression of Gratitude to the Committee.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Emphatic denial of impeachment charges pending against him was made today by Federal Judge A. G. Dayton, of West Virginia, before the investigating sub-committee of the house judiciary committee. Judge Dayton testified throughout the afternoon and evening sessions and replied in elaborate detail to the accusations.

He prefaced his statement with an expression of gratitude to the committee. "I have rested for several months under these charges," he said. "I have been subjected to espionage in my private affairs, my debts and financial obligations have been pried into and a constant series of inflammatory articles has appeared in newspapers. I have endured all this and therefore feel justified in saying that I appreciate the courtesy of the committee in allowing me at last to tender a statement and proof that will dispel these charges."

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

The observance Monday throughout the United States of the 183rd anniversary of the birth of George Washington bore a special significance. It was a rally day of American patriotism more impressive than any observance during the past fifty years. The call to the ideals of Washington, which was made today in every village and hamlet in the United States, furnished a healthful relief from the spectacle of European juggle of accepted standards of warfare and of intercourse between the nations of the world.

The observance of the day brought more clearly to the minds of Americans that American fundamentals, American traditions and American ideals are right. Harking back to the days of Washington, of Jefferson, and of the other great builders of the new republic, we review today the great lesson they taught, and find inspiration for the steady-ness of the ship of state in the worldwide storm of human warfare.

And the observance of the birthday of this great American may serve to remind our fellow-citizens whose old-world prejudices have not yet dropped from their lives in the new country that the United States, as Washington and his fellow patriots designed it, and as Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson confirm it, is the country of peace and prosperity, wherein race and religious prejudice have no place.

The distress in our own land brought on by the European war furnished a fitting theme for many observances, and charity found expression in many collections of money, clothing and food for the unfortunates who were thrown out of work.

Patriotic societies journeyed today to Washington's birthplace in Virginia, and to his mansion at Mount Vernon. Special exercises were held in every city and town, and the day was given over to a holiday in most sections of the country.

A CHOICE POSSESSION.

Miss Ethelyn Plank of Concord has in possession a sampler which she values very highly. Of it she says: "It was made in England by my great grandmother, Martha Houghton when she was at the age of fourteen and it bears the date of June 8, 1802. Also worked on it are Virgin Mary, Mary Magdalene, Christ on the cross, some hids flowers, the name of her teacher which was E. Brown and the following verse:

Behold the Saviour of mankind
Nied to the shameful tree,
How was the love for him inclined
To bleed and die for thee.
The work is neatly done and I certainly prize it very highly."

ARE WOMEN NATURALLY DESPONDENT?

A prominent writer so claims. Women are constituted with a delicate organism and in nine cases out of ten mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system, which expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backache, headaches, causing constant misery and as a result despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, is the one great remedy for this condition. It goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes despondency.—Advertisement.

ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION GIVES HUGE SUMS SINCE ESTABLISHMENT

Statement Gives $6,397,608.644 as Total Amount—One-half Represents the Personal Charities of John D. Rockefeller, Sr.

New York, Feb. 22.—Just $6,397,608.644 was contributed or pledged by The Rockefeller Foundation between its establishment in March 1914 and February 1, 1915, according to a statement filed with the United States commission on industrial relations today. Of this sum $3,213,750—or practically one-half—represents the personal charities of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., the author of the foundation, having reserved in his letter of gift the right to disburse $2,000,000 a year from the corporation's income according to the dictates of his own will.

The war in Europe brought contributions of $1,029,613.06 from the coffers of the foundation, the principal item being $975,707.93 expended for food supplies for starving Belgians, college, Y. M. C. A., projects, medical research and investigation, the Red Cross organized charities and welfare work of various kinds were other beneficiaries.

The statement was drawn up in response to a request made by the industrial relations industrial commission at its recent investigation in New York of the Rockefeller, Carnegie and other foundations. The document was made public by the Rockefeller foundation offices at 61 Broadway.

FALL URGES INTERVENTION IN MEXICO TO RESTORE ORDER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Intervention by the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Chile to police Mexico and establish order was urged in the senate today by Senator Fall of New Mexico. The senator concluded with an attack upon General Villa. He asserted that Villa, on entering Mexico City, seized and forcibly held for four days a French woman, whose husband had joined his colors in France after placing his property in charge of the French ambassador.

"This was not the act of a subordinate—but of Villa—and I am not repeating rumor," declared Senator Fall. "This is the man upon whom the administration, I might say, seems to have looked to bring order out of chaos in Mexico."

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 22.—Iowa men held principal attention among the witnesses for the defense in the trial of the thirty six master plumbers in the federal court here today. BURLINGTON MAN HEADS FRUIT JOBBERS

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—Twelve hundred members of the Western Fruit Jobbers association representing more than half of the territory of the United States, held a meeting here today supplementary to the convention which closed last week in Los Angeles. BUILDING MISSISSIPPI TRAFFIC

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 22.—River transportation is being booming along the Mississippi and its tributaries, and it is expected that by next August Minneapolis will have a large line operating to New Orleans. Davenport, Iowa, is also in the midst of a river boom, and La Crosse, Wis., merchants are interested in the development of river traffic.

THE BATTLE FRONT.

Petrograd, Russia, Feb. 16, via London.—The number of head and arm wounds of the men at the front is enormous, for men in trenches expose only their heads and arms. Many hundreds are hit in the head and death does not result from the wound. Occasionally one may see the slightly wounded walk back with heads bound up or arms in slings. Motor trucks loaded with wounded tear along the roads leading back from the extreme front. Perhaps forty per cent of the wounded are back on the firing line after three months' care and rest in a hospital. It all depends on a man's health and blood. If the blood is pure and good, the soldier gets the first aid, proper treatment and his wounds heal by first intention.

Good blood is everything to every man. It means fresh strong nerves, good digestion, good circulation. Those who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery marvel at the way it checks blood diseases. See a man today with skin all broken out; see him a few weeks later after using the "Discovery", his skin is all cleared up, eyes bright, and he is contented with himself.

The foundation of good health is good blood! Are you pale? Are you weak? Are you no longer ambitious or energetic? Have you pimples or boils? Do you suffer from headaches, low spirits? Then you are anemic—your blood is thin, lacking in healthy, strength-giving red corpuscles. Then your blood is impure—and your liver is not up to its task of clearing the blood from the poisons accumulated.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a temperance remedy that will restore to you rich, health-giving blood—a remedy proved by experience (in tablet or liquid form). BE JOYFUL

You'd better be joking than kicking or croaking, you'd better be saying that life is a joy, then folks will caress you and praise you and bless you, and say you're a peach and a broth of a boy. You'd better be cheery, not drooling and dreary, from the time you get up till you go to your couch; or people will hate you and roast and berate you—they don't like the man with a hangover grouch. You'd better be leaving the groaning and grieving to men who have woes of the genuine kind; you know that your troubles are fragile as bubbles, they are but the growth of a colicky mind. You'd better be grinning while you have your "inning," or when a real trouble is racking your soul, your friends will be growling, "He always is howling—he wouldn't touch joy with a twenty-foot pole." You'd better be pleasant; if sorrow is present, there's no use in chaining it fast to your door; far better to shoo it, and hoot and pursue it, and then it may go and come back never more.

Blood Sufferers
Want to Know
The Light is Turned on to a Subject of Darkness.

The more fact that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, drives out disease is a world's story, a topic of conversation wherever men get together.

They wonder why, simply because most remedies are mystified and put before them as "discoveries." The facts are that we pay too much attention to possibilities and not enough to real, homespun accomplishment. S. S. S. is a remedy of our fathers. It has a history that is written deeply in men's minds because it has done the work, driven out deep seated disease, revived hope, put the O. K. on appearance and clamped down tight any effort of germs to get the upper hand. Any sore spot on the skin is an immediate demand for S. S. S. since the first principle of this famous remedy is to strike out for places of trouble. This is a physiological fact and S. S. S. is true to the workings of our body.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today at any druggist and begin blood health. It will master any blood disease and do it in a way to emphasize its influence. And if you would like definite advice write The Swift Specific Co., 56 Swift Bldg., Atlanta Ga. Their medical department is where most people first seek advice that put them on the straight road.

SPECIAL MEETINGS AT GRACE METHODIST CHURCH

Pastor Preaches Strong Sermon from II Kings 26:4—Cottage Prayer Meetings for the Week.

Monday night was one of spiritual development in the progress of the special meeting at Grace M. E. church. Mrs. J. Bart Johnson sang with fine appreciation that beautiful solo, "The Sparrow Song." It reminded many of the "Sunday" meetings of these questions is the first duty in this campaign for the salvation of the people said the minister. How can a Christian worker do effective work if there is any cloud over his own moral sky? After he has cleared the way before him he is then ready to effectively inquire about the welfare of others. It was brought out in the meeting that fruit always appeared on the new growth. The application was that out of the renewed faith and consecration of the church people came the spirit and life that resulted in the salvation of others.

The second question touches a vital condition. How many husbands in this and every community are on the outside in a moral sense? Has the wife sought earnestly as she might for his redemption? Many women are apparently satisfied if the husband is a decent sort of man, and a good provider whether he is a Christian or not. He is not likely to become a Christian until the matter becomes an absorbing desire on the part of the wife.

The third question, "Is it well with thy son?" There are not many homes here where this is not a searching question. There is a greater mission for the home life than the teaching and training of the child for Christian living. This work cannot be delegated to the church. God founded the home before He founded the church. If the home fails it will be a mighty hard thing for the church to save the child. With several vivid and impressive illustrations these questions were driven home.

Tuesday night the subject will be, "The Unsaved Man's Indictment of the Modern Church." There will be some special music. The following cottage prayer-meetings will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30:

At the home of Mrs. Minnie Wheeler, corner of Webster and Lafayette.

At the home of Mrs. Dunlap on the corner of Prairie and College avenue.

At the home of Mrs. J. V. Breckon, 805 W. North street.

At the home of Mrs. Herbert Capps, 811 North Church.

All are welcome to these services.

CANDY TO GROW IN THE FIELDS.

(By Monroe Woolley.)

Long since some wag set going the joke among breakfast food consumers that some of their foods are made of peanut hulls. Jokes often end in solemn truths, and if the story helped in any way to lead a western food manufacturing specialist to discoveries about alfalfa hay, then some one should subscribe a pension for the joker in the breakfast food line who may be responsible for these discoveries.

A westerner who owns food mills in Idaho and Montana now makes the startling announcement that he can make at least seventy-five different sorts of candy from alfalfa. Just think of the good things the hogs, horses, and cattle have been cheating men and women and children out of for these many years. The lucky animal may now very shortly be deprived altogether of their ration of alfalfa, for it would be folly to feed a plant as valuable as this to beasts.

A rich grade of syrup may also be made from alfalfa. The discoverer is so enthusiastic over his results in alfalfa research that he is planning to establish a mill for the manufacture of alfalfa flour, which he asserts will be superior to all other flours for baking. This mill is expected to be in operation within six months and will probably be located in Idaho. Hitherto at his small mills in Montana this man has been making a balanced ration for live stock out of alfalfa. Biscuits, and a variety of pastries may be made from the flour.

It is highly probable that alfalfa may some day revolutionize the confectionery business. Certainly if alfalfa proves its worth as a candy component the average planted variety will quickly increase and prices may be demanded far above those of the present.

Rev. Mr. Cobb of Brimfield will fill the pulpit at the Baptist church next Sunday, morning and evening.

About seven o'clock Saturday evening, a scouting party invaded Sunshine cottage and commanded us to fall in rank for the invasion of "Cozy Cottage," on Peoria Boulevard. Mrs. McCarty claimed exemption from the law, on account of a very bad cold, and the officer detailed us to stay at home to take care of the patient, therefore we were both deprived of being present at one of the finest little affairs of the season. This raid was made on "Cozy Cottage," because it was the birthday of Mrs. Jackson Henderson. Her children and grandchildren were the aggressors, ably supported by some of the neighbors; they took possession, spread a feast, invited Aunt Mat and Uncle Jack to partake with them, and proceeded to have a good time in every respect. About thirty persons belong to this army of invasion and any one who has a birthday, may look out for them.

ASBURY.

Harry Craig spent last Thursday with his sister, Miss Helen Craig who is a student in Alhambra college at St. Charles, Mo. He also attended the dedication of Butler hall and the reception in the evening.

SPRAYING REMEDIES
FOR SAN JOSE SCALE

TO SAVE THE TREES PROMPT ACTION MUST BE TAKEN.

Lime Sulfur Solution, Its Use and Mode of Making—Thorough Spraying Would Keep Pest Under Satisfactory Control—Power Machines for Large Orchards.

(By A. J. Gunderson, First Assistant in Pomology, Department of Horticulture, University of Illinois.)

Hundreds of apple trees and large numbers of peach and pear trees in southern Illinois are being killed annually by San Jose scale. Orchard after orchard becomes infested and slowly dies from the attacks of this insect. Fruit growers in southern Illinois must eradicate San Jose scale if they expect their trees to live and bear profitable crops. Prompt action may save the trees from becoming candidates for the wood pile.

In order to ascertain whether or not your trees are infected with scale, examine at once. Examine the smaller limbs of the trees and if scale is present it will appear as a grayish, very slightly roughened, scurfy deposit. Crush this mass by scraping it with a knife, and a yellowish, oily liquid will appear, resulting from the mashing of the soft yellow insects beneath the scales.

Lime Sulfur Solution. Now is the time to eradicate this pest. Spray your trees with lime sulfur solution while they are dormant. This material may either be purchased from manufacturers or made by the fruit grower. In case the orchard is small, it will be cheaper to buy the lime sulfur; use commercial lime sulfur at the rate of 1 gallon to each 8 gallons of water. If, however, you have a very large orchard, it will save money to make it. Lime sulfur may be made economically as follows: 50 pounds of lime, 100 pounds of sulfur, 66 gallons of water. (Fresh stone lime and ground commercial sulfur should be used. Homemade lime sulfur should be used at the rate of 1 gallon in each 5 gallons of water for San Jose scale.)

Secure an iron kettle having a capacity of about 75 gallons and provided with suitable means for heating. A feed cooker is an excellent arrangement. This kettle should be housed because of the difficulty in controlling the fire out of doors. With material on hand and the kettle installed, measure exactly 55 gallons of water into the kettle, and mark on a measuring stick the height of the water so that the amount may be determined at any time during the process of making by means of the stick. Empty the kettle. Then place about 15 gallons of water in the kettle and start the fire. When the water is hot, add 50 pounds of lime. As soon as this begins to slake vigorously, add 100 pounds of sulfur and mix the two ingredients thoroughly, adding enough water to slake the lime properly. When slaking ceases, add sufficient water to bring the mixture up to the 66 gallon mark on the measuring stick. Stir the mixture continually during the entire cooking period. At first it appears yellow in color, gradually changing to an orange red. Be sure to keep the total volume always at 66 gallons or above. Hot water should be used to accomplish this if possible. After cooking has continued for some time, take out a dipperful of the mixture, allow it to settle, and then slowly pour it into the kettle. If there are no small lumps of sulfur in the bottom, no more cooking is necessary. The contents of the kettle should be poured into some receptacle to cool and then strained into barrels to await use.

It is necessary to have spraying apparatus for applying the lime sulfur. In case of a few trees, a 50 gallon barrel spray pump will do very well. Where the orchard is large, a power sprayer is recommended. There are several good makes of power machines on the market.

With the lime sulfur and spraying apparatus get busy before the buds swell and spray for scale. If every owner of an orchard in southern Illinois would spray thoroughly, San Jose scale would be kept under satisfactory control.

EXPECT MANY DECISIONS WHEN THE SUPREME COURT MEETS TODAY

Most of the More Important Cases Deal With the Validity of State Laws.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Forty or fifty decisions are expected to be announced tomorrow when the supreme court reconvenes after a three weeks recess. No intimation has been given, however, as to what cases will be decided of the more than one hundred pending.

Most of the more important cases deal with the validity of state laws. Among these is the "Grand Father Clause" legislation in Oklahoma and Maryland; the Indiana safety appliance law; West Virginia's two-cent passenger law, the Ohio and Kansas motion picture censor laws, the Oregon minimum wage law, the California 8-hour labor law and the Ohio anti-screen coal law. Other pending suits involve the validity of the withdrawal by former President Taft of a vast area of public oil lands in California and Wyoming from entry in 1909, the enforceability of oil leases containing "surrender clauses" such as exists in baseball contracts and the right of interstate commerce commission to inspect the correspondence of railroads.

EDISON WON OUT.

He Humbled the Pride of the Speedy Telegraph Operator.

Edison made his first record as a telegraph operator in Memphis. He walked into the office there one morning looking like a veritable hayseed. He wanted a job, and, although his appearance was not prepossessing, the office was short handed, and he was assigned a desk at the St. Louis wire, the hardest in the office. "At the end of the line was an operator who was chain lightning and knew it," says Francis Arthur Jones' "Life of Edison."

"Edison had hardly got seated before St. Louis called. The newcomer responded, and St. Louis started out a long report, which he pumped in like a house afire. Edison threw his leg over the arm of his chair, leisurely transferred a wad of spruce gum from his pocket to his mouth, took up a pen, examined it critically and started in about fifty words behind. He didn't stay there long, though. St. Louis let out another lunk of speed and still another, and the instrument on Edison's table hummed like an old style sewing machine. Every man in the office left his desk and gathered around the jay to see what he was doing with that electric cyclone.

"Well, sir, he was right on the word and taking it down in the prettiest copperplate hand you ever saw, even crossing his 't's' and dotting his 'i's' and punctuating with as much care as a man editing telegraph for printers. St. Louis got tired by and by and began to slow down. Then Edison opened the key and said:

"Hello, there! When are you going to get a hustle on? This is no primer class!"

"Well, sir," said the gentleman who told the story, "that broke St. Louis all up. He had been rawhiding Memphis for a long time, and we were terribly sore, and to have a man in our office who could walk all over him made us feel like a man whose horse had won the Derby."

Self Reliance. Much as worthy friends add to the happiness and value of life we must in the main depend upon ourselves, and every one is his own best friend or worst enemy.—Lord Avebury.

Nice and Polite and Modest. A minister was recounting some of his amusing experiences in marrying people. "There's an old custom," said he, "that the bridegroom shall kiss the bride immediately after the marriage ceremony is over. It's a good, practical custom, for it serves more hands than anything else that I know of to dissipate the awkward pause that almost always follows a simple, informal ceremony. For this reason I keep the custom alive."

"One day a man whom I shall call Blank came to the parsonage to be married. Mr. Blank was a pompous, consequential little man. The prospective Mrs. Blank was a fine, winsome girl. After the ceremony Mr. Blank in spite of his pomposity, did not seem to know just what was the next thing to do, so, as is my practice in such emergencies, I said, 'My dear sir, it is your privilege to salute the bride.' He turned around and, extending his hand formally said, 'Mrs. Blank, I congratulate you.'—New York Times.

Not a Soft Answer. An agricultural expert who had been invited to address a state grange expressed opinions with which a local farmer, a plain, uncultured man, found fault. After some discussion, in which the sense of the meeting was clearly with the farmer, the expert lost his temper. "Sir," he said to his opponent, striving to speak coolly, "do you realize that I have been at two universities, one in this country and one in Germany?"

"What of that?" demanded the farmer, with a faintly flickering smile. "I had a calf that nursed two cows, and the observation I made was the more he nursed the greater calf he grew."

Couldn't Tell Him. Some months ago when Governor Cox of Ohio was hunting down in Kentucky he became acquainted with a negro who also bears the name of Cox, one of those keen witted, southern negroes who always have a ready answer.

"How is it," inquired Cox jokingly, "that your name is Cox. Up in my state only white folks have that name." The negro rolled his eyes around once or twice and replied:

"I don't know how the white folks first got to usin' our name."—New York Sun.

THOUGHT HE HAD
CHRONIC DYSPESIA

But Now Eats Corned Beef, Cabbage, Pork, Onions and Mince Pie for Dinner and Never Feels a Pain.

Do you belong to the "No thank you" society of the dinner table where the mere sight of certain foods makes you feel the pain you know would be yours if you ever ate them?

Corn Beef, Cabbage, Pork, Beet, Onions, Turnips, etc., are all good healthy strengthening foods and a strong healthy stomach can always digest them. Yet, if the stomach kicks back and simply won't work on such strong fare it's folly to fall back on artificial digesters that push the stuff through whether the stomach will or not.

What a weak, easily upset stomach really needs is not a digestive aid but a stomach strengthener. Any reliable physician will tell you it's dangerous to continually dose the stomach with pepsin digesters and the like. His own prescription will act on the stomach instead. No physician ever wrote a better stomach prescription than that embodied in the famous M-I-O-N-A Stomach Tablets that Cover & Shreve and most every other druggist in this vicinity sells with the positive guarantee that they must put complete and lasting end to stomach misery or money back. M-I-O-N-A strengthens the walls and muscular fibres of the stomach and induces prompt normal working of your own stomach machinery. It gives relief in ten minutes to all the common and uncomfortable symptoms of sour rising, gas, belching, burning, bloating, shooting pains, etc., and in a few weeks will put the stomach in such a clear and perfectly healthy condition that it can digest a typical New England boiled dinner without the slightest effort or distress.—Advertisement.

PLAIN QUESTIONS TO JACKSONVILLE PEOPLE

Every Jacksonville Reader Will Admit the Soundness of the Logic.

Would Jacksonville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they do if the medicine were not reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years have elapsed if their experiences did not show the remedy to be deserving of it? Statesmen like the following must carry conviction to the mind of every reader.

John Minter, 423 South East St., Jacksonville, says: "I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know them to be worthy of praise. I have been telling of my experience with this remedy for many years. I took Doan's Kidney Pills for pain in my back and other symptoms of kidney trouble, and found them effective. I always advise the use of this remedy when I have an opportunity."

HOT TEA BREAKS
A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

STUDENTS OBSERVE WASHINGTON DAY

BIRTHDAY OF FIRST PRESIDENT DULY CELEBRATED.

Interesting Exercises Held in David Prince School, Consisting of Recitations and Athletic Contests, for Students from All Grades.

Could George Washington have looked down on Jacksonville yesterday in general and the David Prince building in particular he would have been well satisfied that his memory was still held green in the hearts of the rising generation of the city at least. The program was a happy thought of Supt. Collins and was carried out finely by the gentleman and his able corps of teachers and let it be duly remembered too that both in the David Prince building and the high school the regular recitations were heard as usual all day though of course the performers in the gymnasium were not always able to be in the class rooms.

The gymnasium was draped and decorated with flags and national colors and all was ready in fine shape for the exercises of the day. In the morning the guests were the pupils of the Jefferson, Lafayette and Independence schools and the children occupied all available space, chairs, extra seats and bleachers being crowded and never did performers have a more appreciative and enthusiastic audience.

From morning till closing time at night the high school band, 24 pieces strong was a prominent feature of the program under the able leadership of Fred Goodrick and the boys did grandly, winning loud praise from all.

Everything passed off with a vim and snap and there was no dragging from first to last and all the numbers were admirably done.

Morning Program.
In the morning music by the band came first and it was fine, and after that the audience was requested to join in "America." Miss Allie Goodrick leading in her usual capable manner.

Following this was a stirring basketball game between the David Prince Girls and the sophomores. The game was well contested under the leadership of Coach Buland and resulted in a score of 8 to 0 in favor of David Prince girls.

Then Mr. Boxell introduced another large number of David Prince school girls who went through an exhibition, marching and dumb bell drill. The work of these young ladies was truly admirable and seasoned soldiers might envy the precision with which they marched and went through the exercises.

Miss Goodrick then led the children of the Jefferson and Independence school in a patriotic song, "Geo. Washington, and then Miss Marie Scott with a battalion of high school girls delighted the audience with fine drilling and dumb bell work. The number was entitled "How do you do?" and the audience did enjoy the number exceedingly.

Miss Goodrick then gave some musical numbers on a victrola which were well selected and after that Warren Maddox with his high school boys gave a fine exhibition of dumb bell drill and marching. The young gentlemen performed with fine skill and perfection of movement and earned many fine compliments.

Gave Old Time Dance.

Then came a minuet of young ladies of the high school under the leadership of Miss Jeannette Taylor. All were arrayed in true, old time colonial styles and to suitable music executed the old time dances in a manner that was indeed most meritorious. Everything was done with absolute precision and in a charming manner. The costumes were simply superb and elicited any amount of praise. Powered wig adorned the heads of the various "gentlemen" while the ladies were resplendent in the old time dress of our great-grandmothers. Slaty they appeared and in a stately manner they moved about executing all the movements in a manner that left no room for criticism. The costumes showed wonderful accuracy and were elegant and costly and worn with grace and elegance.

Miss Goodrick led the children of the Lafayette school in a patriotic song, "Flag of the Free," after which came a well played basketball game between the high school freshmen and sophomore teams. The contest was spirited as led by Warren Maddox and attracted close and enthusiastic attention and resulted in a score of 21 to 6 in favor of the freshmen, who were loudly applauded.

Luncheon Was Served.

This ended the morning program and then came a number not printed on the bills, a lunch served by the domestic science class. It showed that the young ladies who could appear so perfectly as colonial dames and "gentlemen" were equally at home in preparing the good things of life. The meal was tendered the band boys, Miss White, Profs. Collins and Carter and the reporter.

The bill of fare consisted of:
Aqua pura.
Beefibus stakienne, a la mode.
Oleaginous product of lacteal bovine emanations.
Cabbageiens minus caloric contactibus.
Alba productiensis fluoriscas cum caloric.
Saccharine corniensibus cum caloric.
Potens, Java extractibus cum saccharine alba et lac.
Compressibus lac at caese al la mode.
One person without the fear of the law before his eyes said something about biscuits and cobblestones but he was sat down on so hard he didn't peep any more.

The Afternoon
In the afternoon the guests were the pupils from the Washington and Franklin schools and as in the morning the gymnasium was packed to its utmost capacity with an enthusiastic audience. The programs were carried out with vim and vigor and all entered fully into the spirit of the occasion. There was music by the high school band and following that came "America" by the audience. Then the senior and junior high school girls basketball teams played a well contested game in which the score stood four to two in favor of the juniors.

Coach Buland then brought on his high school boys for an exhibition club swinging after which Miss Goodrick gave some more music from the victrola and then Miss Marie Scott delighted all again with "How do you do?" by her high school girls. The Franklin school sang and then Miss Jeannette Taylor's pupils gave a marching and band drill which was fine. An interesting indoor game was played by the 7th and 8th grades and was won by the 7th. Washington school sang and the 7th and 8th grades gave a dumb bell exhibition led by Warren Maddox and that was followed by a lively basketball game by freshmen and sophomores in which the score stood 12 to 8 in favor of the freshmen.

Second Part of Program.
The second part of the afternoon program was also fine. The high school band as usual was prominent. "America" was sung by the audience and then came a basketball game between the 7th and 8th grade girls' teams in which the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of the 8th grade. The noon hour class gave a good exhibition of marching and dumb bells and then came more victrola music and was followed by the minute which was just as charming as in the morning and won loud applause. The 7th and 8th grades gave an exhibition of club swinging and then came an exciting basketball game between the Featherweilts and Midgets under the lead of Mr. Boxell and the score was 1 to 0 in favor of the Featherweilts.

Again Miss Marie Scott delighted all with her "How do you do?" drill and last came an exciting game of basketball between the Illini and Progressive teams with a score of 2 to 3 in favor of the Illini.

The Banquet
The band boys with several guests repaired to the domestic science room where a fine dinner awaited them and after the tables were cleared after dinner speaking came. Addresses were made by S. W. Nichols, Principal Stone, Mr. Morrison, Byron Carpenter, Frank Robinson, William Bartlett, Russell Pinkerton, president of the band, Wilbur Rogers, ex-president and William Faust.

A special quartet consisting of William Faust, Charles Spencer, Uriel Gouveia and Leonard Patterson sang that popular song, "A Long Way to Tipperary" and responded to a loud encore and the banquet was over.

Evening.
In the evening the children gave way to the adults and again the great gymnasium was packed and many stood in the halls unable to crowd in and that in spite of the unfavorable weather. Though the performers had in some cases been on at every program of the day all were at their best and none showed signs of fatigue.

First as in the day came music by the band and the boys received loud applause. "America" was sung with a will and a grand march by students followed and presented an interesting spectacle of fine young people getting ready for the active duties of life. The first game of basketball was between the high school and the 8th grade girls, the latter winning by a score of 8 to 3. Some Victrola music followed and then came the very popular "How do you do?" by Miss Marie Scott's girls who did admirably as usual.

The third game of basketball between the sophomores and freshmen resulted in a victory for the sophs, the first one of the day, they came out ahead by a score of 7 to 4. Then came the beautiful and impressive minuet and it is needless to say that the vast audience was more than delighted with the efforts and appearance of the young people. Both the costumes and work came in for much praise nor would the reporter show partiality for all the numbers were loudly cheered and praised by the vast audience.

The next was a basketball game between the first and second regulars. The young men played admirably and with vim and determination. The score stood 34 to 19 in favor of the first team and thus ended one of the most successful affairs and certainly one of the most elaborate in the history of the city public schools.

TREATMENT OF SEED GRAIN TO PREVENT SMUT

As spring approaches it will be well for the farmer to think of his seed grain. Has he the kind that will germinate? Is he going to protect his crop this year from smut? It is a well established fact that it can be done.

Loss Due to Smut.
All small grains are more or less subject to injury from smut, which annually reduces greatly the yield as well as the quality of the grain affected. Among the grains, under Illinois conditions, none are so seriously affected as oats. The annual loss in the oat crop where the seed is untreated, is very heavy and may be fairly well measured, for any field, by the percentage of smutted heads; since affected heads are practically a total loss. The injury done may often amount to 15 or 20 per cent of the total crop.

Smut is carried over from one season to the next in the spore stage; the spores find lodgment either on the surface of the seed or in the openings of the covering which surrounds it. If the spores are present they are in position to germinate and grow whenever the seed finds lodgment in the soil.

Under conditions which prevail in Illinois, it is only necessary to destroy the spores that are found in connection with the seed since this is practically the only source of infection. There is little or no chance for the spores to become introduced through the soil itself. The covered smut of oats and barley, the naked smut of oats and the stinking smut of wheat can be controlled with the formalin treatment, while the loose smuts of wheat and barley cannot.

Formalin Treatment for Smut.
A number of different treatments have been used, but among them the formalin treatment is as effective and as simple as any. For this treatment, mix thoroughly 1 pint of 40 per cent formalin in 40 gallons of water. This formalin may be secured at almost any drug store since it is in general use for disinfecting purposes. The cleaned seed grain is placed on the barn floor and the liquid carefully applied with an ordinary garden sprinkler. While one man applies the solution, one or two others turn the seed with a shovel until all the grains are uniformly moist. Each seed grain should have a film of the liquid around it. Under average conditions it will require from two to three quarts of the liquid per bushel of seed. After the work is finished, the seed should be left in a heap and covered for two hours with canvas. The canvas covering should then be removed and the mass scattered to dry.

If treated immediately before sowing it will be unnecessary to dry the seed; however, moistened seed does not feed uniformly through the seeder. In no case should seed grains be treated so long as there is danger from freezing weather. During periods of low temperature vitality may be seriously affected if the seed is moist.

REDUCE HOUSEHOLD EXPENSES

Make Your Own Cough Medicine

The difference in buying one of the most efficient, latest and up-to-date cough and cold remedies (which can be made at home), and buying the old, ordinary, ready-made kinds, is that with the new one you get all pure medicine, instead of buying a large proportion of sugar and water, besides paying for bottles, corks and labels; and it usually requires 2 to 3 bottles of the old-fashioned, ready-made remedies to break up a cough or cold, while 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's new Concentrated Expectorant, which is altogether different from any other cough remedy, and is so strongly concentrated that 2 ounces, when mixed at home with simply one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water, makes a full pint (16 ounces) of excellent cough remedy, and will be sufficient to probably last the whole family the entire winter. It positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics and is so pleasant that children like to take it. Arrangements have been made with Gilbert's pharmacy to refund the money to any person who finds it does not give perfect satisfaction or if it is not found the very best remedy ever used for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and hoarseness. In fact, all druggists of this city will sell this new remedy under the same guarantee. You will be the sole judge, under the positive guarantee by these druggists, absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, St. Paul, Minn., makes a full pint (16 ounces) of

Free Present to Mothers From the Druggists of Jacksonville

They Will Give Away Free to Mothers With Small Children Full Size 25-Cent Packages of the New "External" Vapor Treatment That Relieves Croup in Fifteen Minutes—Colds Overnight.

No one knows better than the skilled druggist the dangerous character of most cough and cold preparations. To produce results these remedies must contain some form of narcotic or some one of the coal tar products. These drugs are injurious to the stomach, especially to the delicate stomachs of little children.

Druggists have long sought for some direct method of reaching cold troubles—for some form of vapor treatment that could be inhaled direct to the lungs and air passages.

In a little North Carolina town a druggist discovered how to combine Thymol, Eucalyptol, Menthol, Camphor, Oil of Pine, etc., in the form of a salve so that when applied to the chest and throat the heat of the body would release these volatile products in the form of vapors.

These vapors are inhaled all night long, at the same time the preparation is absorbed through the skin, taking out the soreness and tightness. The effect for all cold troubles is remarkable, no matter whether head colds or deep chest colds. For croup positive relief is assured in fifteen minutes. For all forms of bronchial troubles, sore throat, difficult breathing, etc., this new treatment will be found usually effective.

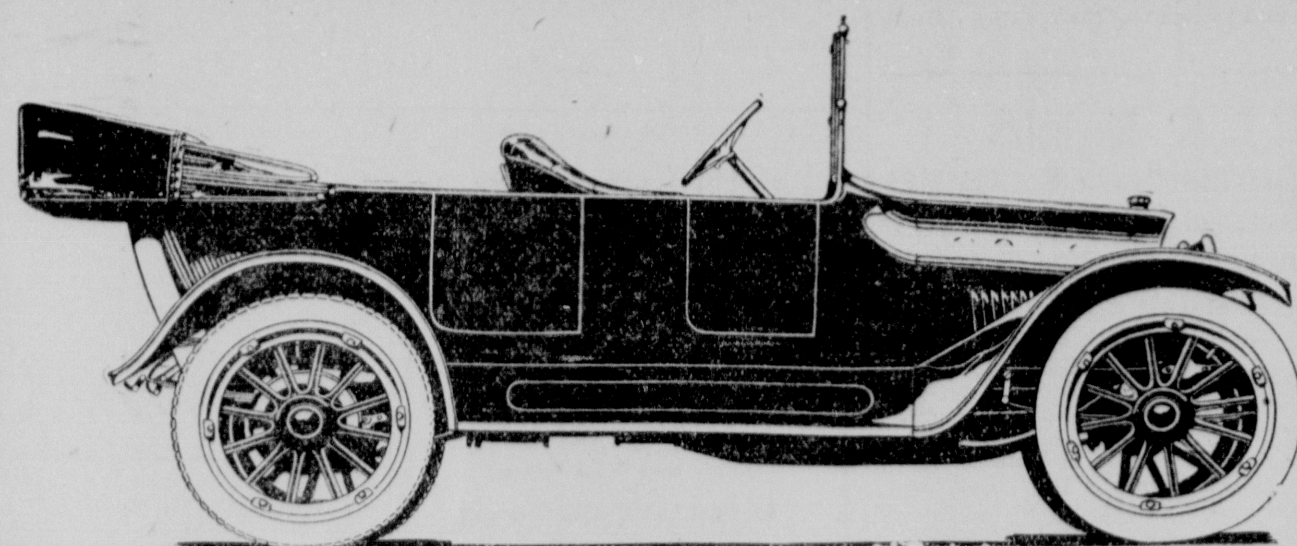

And better still is the fact that this "external" treatment can be used with perfect safety on the smallest child as often and as freely as you wish. Nothing to swallow, nothing injurious, the full ingredients are on every wrapper.

Realizing the value of a treatment of this kind, especially to mothers with small children, a number of the leading druggists of Jacksonville are arranging to give away full size 25-cent packages free to their regular customers. None of the druggist have received their shipments as yet but as the free supply is limited and there will be a rush for these free packages, the best thing is to present your coupon at once and have your package reserved.

Little Misses Elizabeth and Freda Lewis and Alice Winters sang sweetly, "Sleep, Baby, Sleep" and "December." Mr. and Mrs. Lewis received a number of nice presents and it is needless to say that the evening was greatly enjoyed and passed all too soon for the guests. Delicious refreshments were served. "EVERYBODY'S" NIGHT AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Special Meeting Planned for This Evening With Baptismal Services—Forty Have Professed Christ.

The second week of the revival services in the First Baptist church which are growing in interest, as they progress was continued Monday night. The auditorium was tastefully decorated by the ladies of the church and there was a large gathering of members and friends of the church present. It was known as "Sisterhood Night" and the sermon was in accordance with the evening. The interest in the services is increasing as is shown from the fact that there have been 40 conversions since the meetings began.

The evening services were opened by the singing in an enthusiastic manner of the well known hymn, "America" by the congregation. The ladies sang "Make Me a Channel of Blessing," and at the close of the services, Miss Duncan sang in an impressive manner, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling."

The pastor, Rev. Percy W. Stephens chose as the subject of his message, "Her Master's Call," founded upon the words of holy writ in John 11-28, "The Master is come and calleth for thee." The pastor said in part:

"Jesus is called 'Master' because He is Master over death. See how He raised the widow of Nain's son and restored him to her. He is Master over demons. You remember how He cast the demons out of the man who lived in the tombs. He is also Master over distress. When the troubled disciples on the sea were distressed by reason of the winds and waves, they cried in fear, 'Master,' and Jesus spake and the winds and waves were calmed."

The Master was sent for and came because no one else could raise Lazarus, as no one but He can save us. He is calling. Sometimes he calls us as He called Mary, by the word of a messenger. Sometimes it is by the prayers and tears of a mother. At other times He calls us by the death of a loved one.

This evening will be known as "Everybody's Night," when Rev. Stephens will deliver a sermon on a subject which he has made a special study and with which he is especially familiar, "Christ's Second Coming, the Lightning Flash." A baptismal service will be held at the opening of the service tonight at 7:30. The ladies who acted as ushers last night were Mrs. Gollira, Mrs. Oscar Barr, Mrs. Elizabeth Long, Mrs. James Smith and Miss Ralph Jones.

Statistics show that during the year 1914, 250 women inventors applied for patents in England.

ST. LOUIS UNIV.
BOWS TO ILLINOIS

LOCAL COLLEGE FIVE ANNEXES
GAME 28 TO 22.

Half a Thousand Fans Witness Fast and Hard Fought Contest Yesterday Afternoon—I. C. Runs Away With Game in First Half.

Half a thousand basketball fans saw St. Louis University bow before Illinois college by a score of 22 to 28 Monday afternoon in one of the fastest contests ever witnessed in the Armory hall. When the game started out and up until the first half had closed it looked as though Illinois college was going to run away with the game. The locals played rings around the Missourians and St. Louis put up a purely defensive game during the entire twenty minutes. Stewart was the particularly bright star for Illinois in this half, getting five baskets, some of the shots being of the sensational order. With the score of 20 to 5 in Illinois' favor, the fans were "going wild" when the whistle blew for time.

St. Louis showed a reversal of form when the second half began, a shift of the players having been made, and it was not long until the visitors had Illinois playing the defensive game. The good team work which Illinois had displayed in the first half, was taken up by the visitors, Illinois men evidently believing that the game was tucked away sufficiently as not to warrant additional effort. At one time during the second half only four points separated the fives and there were "anxious moments," felt not only by the players, but by the big crowd. Hansel, the accurate and long distance basket shooter of St. Louis got his eye to working and Illinois failing to cover him sufficiently, he was enabled to get four baskets in the half, against none in the first. As the half ended the playing became intense and ended brilliantly by Capt. Atchison making a basket simultaneously with the blowing of the whistle ending the struggle.

It has been some time since Illinois displayed such splendid form as they did in the first half of the contest and at any rate a team which defeated the St. Louis U. merits all the honor that can be given them. The victory was a good come back for the beating St. Louis gave Illinois in a previous game.

Illinois has one more game at home, with Carthage. It is scheduled for Friday night but an effort is being made to have it changed to Thursday night on account of the tournament.
